THE DATE

The reader will notice that this book carries the same date as the last annual. In previous years it was the practice to use the date of the graduation year of the junior class publishing the book.

Due to complications that sometimes arise and upon the advice of the administration, we inaugurate a practice which we believe to be more practical—that of using the date of the year in which the yearbook is published.

THE COVER

The cover on this annual is symbolical of the development of Muskingum over a period of one hundred years. The log cabin is emblematical of the early years of the college; the building rising behind represents the modern Muskingum.

The evergreen tying the two together is representative of the life of Dr. J. Knox Montgomery, to whom the Muskingum of today is so much indebted.

PREFACE

With acknowledged limitations, we of the Junior Class have attempted to portray in the following pages a panorama of events and life as it transpires on the "Campus on the Hill." As we have watched the constant march of events, with camera in hand, we have tried to stop them, so that you may better recall, in days to come, the short span of your life spent in college . . .

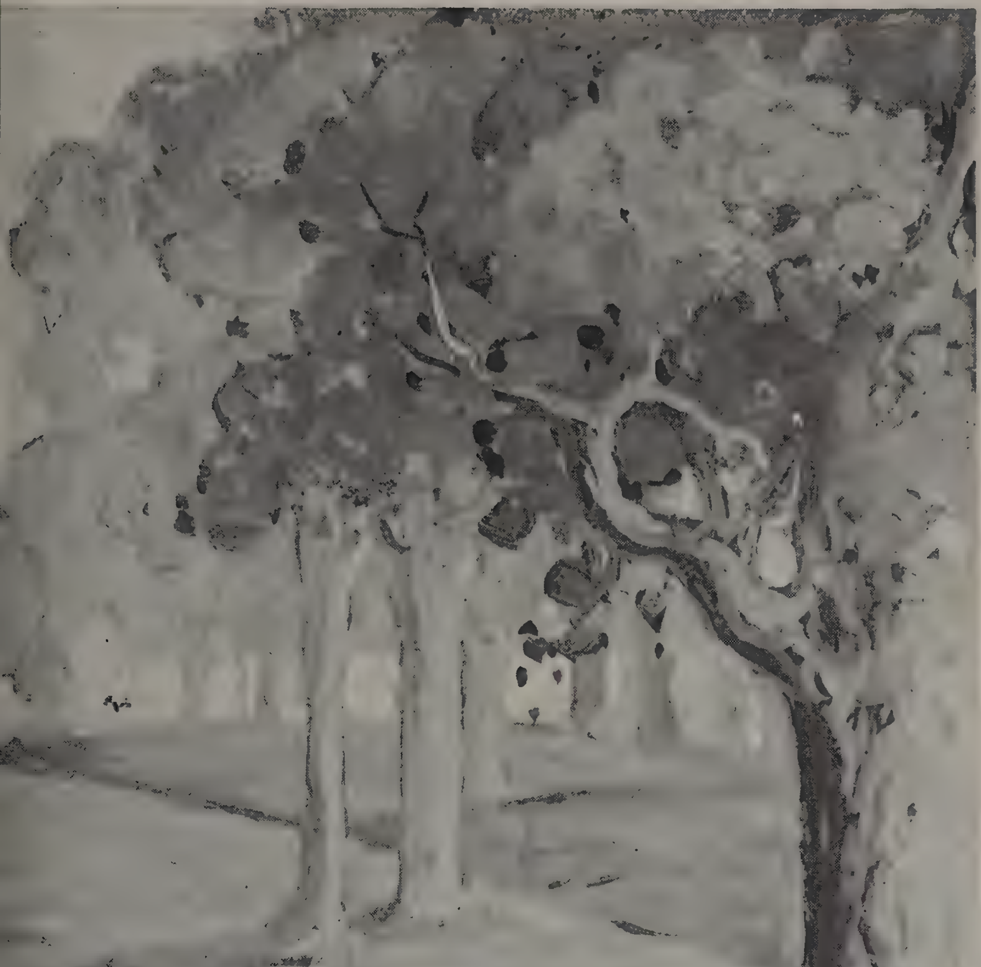
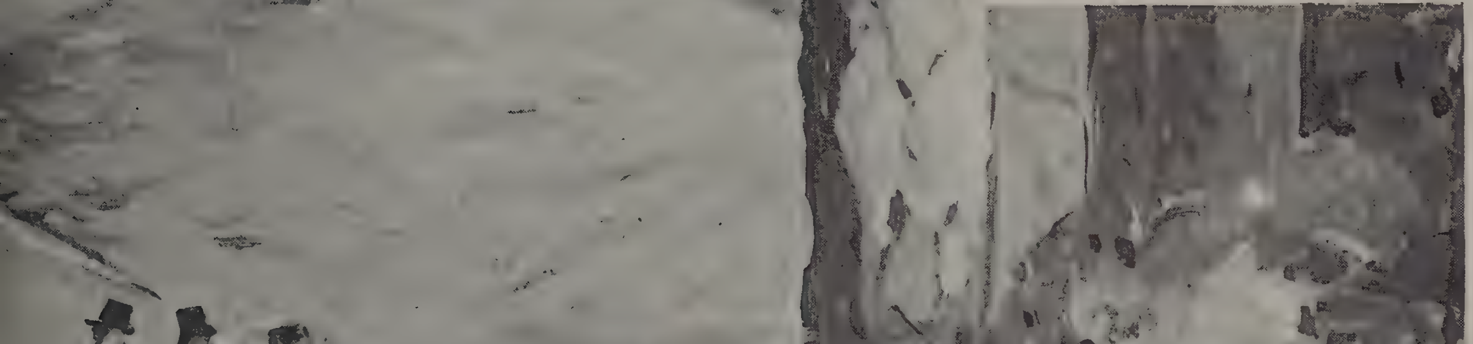
ONE

Benjamin Waddle, D. D.
First President of Muskingum
1837 - 1838





A hundred years ago students made their way up this path to a single building on the hill.

The President's Message

Robert N. Montgomery
B. A., M. TH., D. D.
President of the College

During this Centennial year we students and faculty of Muskingum are especially aware that we are "encompassed about with a great cloud of witnesses" who across the one hundred years of our history have been a part of Muskingum. Father used to say to the students, "What you are to be, you are now becoming." That statement is true of institutions as well as individuals. The faith of the founding fathers has certainly to a very large degree been fulfilled during these hundred years. As we look back across the years and see the loyalty and devotion on the part of the presidents, board members, faculty, students, alumni, and other friends, we are impressed with the fact that it has been this spirit of loyalty and devotion to a great Christian cause that has made possible the Muskingum of today.

The future of the college is in our hands. We hope that this Centennial year will be a time of rededication, when we Muskingum men and women of today will dedicate ourselves to that same great purpose to which the Founders dedicated themselves one hundred years ago. As we start out on the new century, we pray that the second hundred years of Muskingum will fulfill the promise of the first hundred years.

I am happy to extend greetings on behalf of the college to all those who may read these pages. I believe the editors have done a splendid piece of work in portraying the college life of today. While many changes have taken place in the activities, the curriculum, and the organization of the college throughout the years, I am sure the reader of this annual will be aware of the fact that the Muskingum spirit is still strong and will continue to be so for generations yet to come.

Dr. Robert N. Montgomery
President

A Tribute to The Creator of a College

John Knox Montgomery was President of Muskingum from 1904 to 1931. He was born in Marshall County, Tennessee, on August 4, 1871, and died in Zanesville, Ohio, December 30, 1931. He received his education in Enfield College, the University of Indiana, and the Xenia Theological Seminary.

He was in the pastorate for seventeen years. During this time he was active in young people's work, was a contributing editor to several church papers, and was noted throughout the church for his leadership among youth. He first visited Muskingum in 1896, at commencement time, to deliver the address to the literary societies.

The coming of President Montgomery to Muskingum meant a new day in the life of the institution. In 1904 the campus consisted of two acres and there were three buildings, the endowment was less than $40,000 and the students in the four college classes numbered less than one hundred.

Through years of hard struggle, during which he had the cooperation of the alumni, faculty, board of trustees, and friends, the greater Muskingum was built. The campus was enlarged until it now occupies over one hundred acres. Buildings, involving a cost of more than a million dollars, were erected. The endowment was increased to a million dollars. With all this advancement there was continued emphasis upon the development of Christian character, with a distinctly Christian emphasis being given to every phase of the program of the college.

Mention could not be made of the contribution that President Montgomery made to Muskingum without also speaking of Mrs. Montgomery who across these twenty-seven years was by his side and was his chief counselor. We are happy that "Mother" Montgomery is still with us, and many joined in the celebration of her seventy-fifth birthday this year. The contribution that President Montgomery made to the life of Muskingum is being memorialized this year through the fact that the Centennial Fund of a million dollars, to be used primarily for endowment, is being raised and has been called the "J. Knox Montgomery Memorial Fund."

As the years take us farther away from actual contact with him, we are able to better see that in him was the true embodiment of the Muskingum spirit, whose components are great faith, high courage, steadfast devotion, friendly tolerance, clear thinking, and the realization that with God all things are possible.

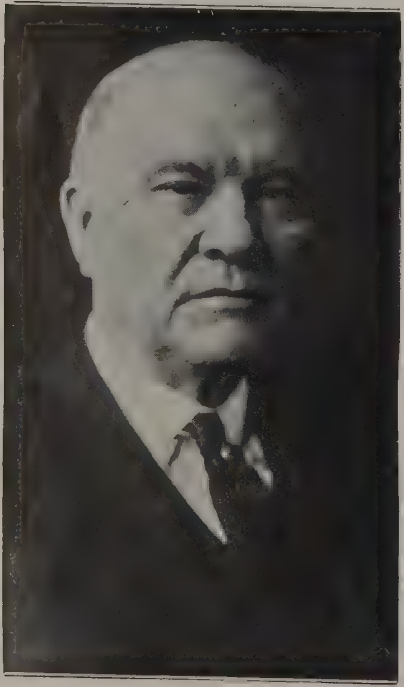
Personalities



DR. W. O. THOMPSON

One of the most outstanding personalities ever to be graduated from Muskingum was Dr. W. O. Thompson, who was graduated in the class of 1878. Later Dr. Thompson became president of Ohio State University, and if one were to cross that campus today he could see his statue overlooking the campus, placed there as a memorial for his outstanding services to that institution.

DR. W. R. HARPER

Probably the most noteworthy personality ever to be graduated from Muskingum was Dr. William Rainey Harper of the class of 1870. The memorable efforts of Dr. Harper will remain on Chicago University's campus as long as that institution is in existence. Shortly after Dr. Harper was graduated from Muskingum College, he became one of the chief founders of the University of Chicago and the president of the institution.

ATHLETICS

Muskingum's entrance into the field of athletics was through the door of football when, in the fall of 1894, a few of Muskingum's students came to the conclusion that if their college was to keep up with her sister institutions, it would be necessary to have a football team.

That same fall a meeting was called for the purpose of placing football on a business-like basis and encouraging college athletics in general. It was at this time that the Muskingum Athletic Association was formed. It was not until 1900 that Muskingum had a gymnasium. At this time the Alumni Gym, which still stands on College Street, was constructed. During the World War a barracks to house the Muskingum S. A. T. C. was erected on the campus. Through an agreement with the government, the barracks was constructed in 1918 and immediately after the war was converted into a gymnasium and was known as the Barracks Gym. It served as the main physical education building until it burned in 1928.

Scarcely had the embers cooled, when the president, J. Knox Montgomery, who was off the campus at the time, telegraphed word that plans would begin immediately for erecting a new physical education building. In two months the ground was broken and the structure was begun. Then came the depression.

Because of this, funds were not available to continue the construction and the skeleton stood as a constant reminder of the unfinished task until December, 1933, when Harry Hopkins granted President Robert Montgomery's pleas to have the construction made a CWA project under the government's reconstruction program.

On January 16, 1937, President J. Knox Montgomery's dream came true with the dedication of Muskingum's new $400,000 Gymnasium and Physical Education Building, an emblem to a great cause.

INTER CLUB COUNCIL

The Inter-Club Council has as its purpose the promoting and the maintaining of the spirit of good will and friendship among the clubs. The organization is composed of three representatives from each club and several faculty advisors. Regular meetings are held in which the interests and problems of the individual groups, as well as the collective group, are worked out for the good of all. The men's division and the women's division meet and act independently of each other except on matters which are of interest to both groups.

Frances Karr has very ably presided over the women's division this year. Through the organization, changes in the rushing procedure for women's clubs were affected. Through the efficient leadership of Ralph Harden, the men's division made revisions which were felt to be expedient. The splendid way in which the council, this year, solved its problems is an evidence of its importance in club relations.

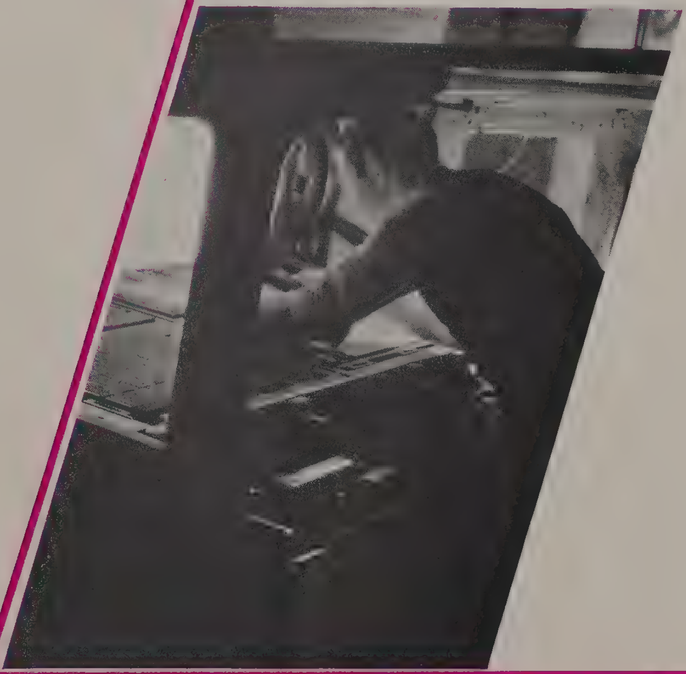
Alpha Phi Gamma, the national honorary journalistic fraternity, is represented at Muskingum by the Epsilon chapter. The purpose of the organization is to recognize individual ability and achievement in the field of journalism and to establish a relationship between students and members of the profession. Invitation to the fraternity is by unanimous vote of the active members and only those are eligible who have served for one year in a major position on a college publication or for two years in a minor position and who rank in scholastic average in the upper two-thirds of the institution. Membership is limited to juniors and seniors.

Alpha Phi Gamma is an organization whose snappy, witty members form a congenial group of unique individuals who are clever wielders of both tongue and pen. Evidence: the Raspberry issue of the Black and Magenta.

PUBLICATIONS



BLACK AND

For a quarter of a century the Black and Magenta has been the student publication at Muskingum. Originally a quarterly, later a monthly, the paper now appears every Wednesday morning.

The news gathering, writing, and editing is done by staff reporters and staff heads. Much of the writing is feature work. "Musties", the humor column is popular; short essays and poetic flights often get first publication in the B. & M. Letters to the Editor show the trend of popular opinion and are, as such, duly printed. The "dirt" column, first dubbed "Mark My Word" and later "Nosin' 'Round" takes the public eye. "Reflections" on the various plays and recitals prove of interest to the more artistically inclined. "Campus Personalities" are eulogized in the column of the same name. "Social Lights" keep us posted.

Several times a year the special issues make their appearance. The"razz-issue" published by Alpha Phi Gamma breaks the monotony of mid-year examinations. The homecoming issue of sixteen pages proves to be plenty of work for the staff, but a medium of recollection for the alumni. The freshmen issue on the vari-colored paper gives the yearlings a chance to "strut their stuff." The centennial number of twelve pages and a "roto" section portrays "A Century of Progress."

MAGENTA

The make-up of the paper, considered by many as the most interesting phase of the work, is done Tuesday afternoon and evening. Completion of the task is celebrated by milkshakes at the Dairy, or coffee at the Muskingum House.

Streamer headlines announcing conference championships . inspired editorials . radical letters advocating reforms in college policy . the badly damaged waste-basket . . . the much thumped type writer, recently reconditioned . . . frequent changes in managership of the print shop—we hope that is over . . . interviews with campus "big shots" . . frequent trips to the pubilicity office for "cuts" . . . the constant search for fillers . . . the final satisfaction when the wet-proofs are corrected and the press starts rumbling . . criticism for the "slips that pass in the night"—it all smacks of newspaper editing . . and then those at the feet of whom the blame may be laid . . .

MUSCO

"There will be a meeting of the Muscoljuan staff this afternoon at 3:30." So reads the announcement in the bulletin, but don't you believe it! Promptly at 4:00 o'clock everyone may be present and by 4:10 the meeting is started. At 5:00 o'clock the room is buzzing like a bee-hive with the rubber cement as the honey. Cutting and pasting pictures are all in a day's work, but one does get a thrill out of pasting some people in the face, doesn't one? The conversation directs itself to one source — Lew Hays, from whence all decrees issue.

"Hey, what class is this girl in?"

"Next on the paint brush!"

"Where's the dummy?" (This is not Lew)

"What's a good adjective for......?" inquires Betty Gettman, holding up a picture of the prize clown of the junior class. Everyone thinks "sappy" but fearing the boy would not like it they say nothing. Ethel Johnston comes to the rescue with a tactful word which Marlie Ann promptly puts down.

Barker and Brown work off in the corner discussing the latest sports events. The noise grows as the bets mount up.

Rachel and Sue have fun with the paper cutter chopping people's heads from their bodies. In their own little world they fancy themselves as Father Time and head executioner at the guillotine.

"Where do the Mc's come in—before or after the Ma's?"

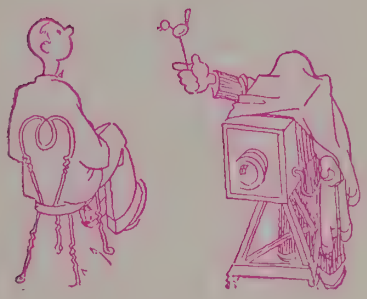
LJUAN



Speaking of ah-er-angels, McCulloch enters for the first time this year, but alas, he is not going to work on the book. Instead he is looking up a picture for the publicity office. Each one shyly offers his or her own picture but Mark will have none of them, so he stomps out.

"Anderson, do you have the copy for W. A. L.?"

Boyd looks embarassed and shakes his head in the affirmative. Sue, quiet until now, breaks forth with, "Boyd Anderson, for president of W. A. L., '38."

Drop in and listen to Peg Finley, Beth MacMillan, and Ethel Bowman.

"You take S. A. I. and I'll take Y. M. C. A."

"Yeh! You want all the boy's clubs."

It all sounds like part of the NRA code. Where is the editor? Oh! right here at my elbow. Do you wonder why the harassed look? I believe it was he who said, "I'm going to drink this rubber cement, turn into an eraser and erase myself." It is now 5:30 and I guess I shall drink some rubber cement and erase myself before Lew has a chance to feed it to me. Not that he wants me to erase myself—oh no! ! !

Respectfully submitted,

The Art Club was first organized in 1934 in order to bring together those persons of artistic ability and those interested in art. It has been active in fostering an interest in art on the campus by having a variety of exhibitions. One of the most interesting of this year was an exhibition of pottery and textiles. The pottery was by contemporary artists and the textiles were of ancient lineage.

The club has regular meetings where the members are further enlightened in certain phases of art through lectures and illustrations. It also visits art galleries in neighboring cities in order to enlarge its vision.

The Art Club of Muskingum is a member of the American Federation of Arts at Washington, D. C. and enjoys all the privileges afforded it through this membership.

STUDENT COUNCIL

Representatives from all the classes of the student body make up the council. Four members beside the president are chosen from the senior class. The juniors have three representatives, the sophomores, two, and the freshmen, one.

Created for the purpose of cooperating with the administration in regulating student affairs, the group has charge of such events as Homecoming, Scholarship Day, and May Day. An open forum held every two weeks gives the student body an opportunity to express opinion on matters concerning administrative procedure.

One of the biggest jobs of the Council is the enforcement of freshmen regulations while that of acting as "go-between" for the faculty and student body requires the utmost in diplomacy.

FORENSIC CLUB

The Forensic Club of Muskingum College was organized in 1914 with the primary purpose of stimulating interest in intercollegiate debate and oratory. The requisites for membership are: having served one year on one of the debate teams, having served as College Orator, or having been elected by vote of the club. Upon the fulfillment of one of these requirements the new member is presented with the triangular gold key by the college. Every Forensic Club member is justly proud of this insignia, for it represents a distinct accomplishment. The famous Forensic initiation provides a great deal of enjoyment for those who happen to be at the library or in the Dormitory parlors on that eventful night. Many hidden talents are brought to light when the prospective members start to perform the feats which only a "forensic man" could invent. The spirit of good fellowship always exists in the Forensic Club.

FORENSIC

AFFIRMATIVE DEBATE TEAM

ROBERT Byler, Kenneth Beams, Rush Warren, John White, Harry Zika, Carl Taylor.

The question for debate in the Ohio Conference this year was, "Resolved, that the several states should adopt a one house legislature—Constitutionality conceded." The affirmative team upheld the question by showing that a one house legislature is superior in organization, in legislative results, and in democracy. In the pre-tournament debates this team met Denison university, Kenyon college, Capital university, Cincinnati university, Wittenberg college, Otterbein college, Ohio Wesleyan university, and Findlay college. In the Ohio Conference Tournament this affirmative team debated four times and was victorious each time. This highly commendable accomplishment, joined with the splendid work of the Muskingum negative team, brought the Championship Cup again back to its show-case in Montgomery Hall. Each of the six men on the team participated in at least one debate during the season. Carl Taylor, Harry Zika, and John White were the speakers who performed so well in the tournament. Rush Warren, Robert Byler, and Kenneth Beams also deserve much credit for their part in making the season so successful.

NEGATIVE DEBATE TEAM

The Negative team opposed the question of the single house legislature, taking into consideration past experiences, present principles, and future outcomes and possibilities, and on this it offered proof that the single house legislature was impractical. Practice debates were held with Otterbein, Kent university, Denison university, Ohio university, Ohio Wesleyan university, and Wittenburg, all of these being non-decision debates. At the Ohio Conference Tournament, the team won three out of their four scheduled debates.

The introduction of the case was ably and clearly presented by the first speaker, Harold Braun. Richard Cooper, the second speaker, presented in a clear cut, concise way a follow-up of the first speaker and then advanced the case still further. The third speaker, Harry Sweitzer, summed up and closed the case.

Marcus McCulloch, Harold McCausland, Ted Cook, and Loren Buckey did much and very creditable research work and were a great help to the team, proving themselves invaluable in many ways.

Professor Layton is to be congratulated on his fine and most enviable record in the Ohio Conference, with eight Conference victories during the twelve years of its existence.

MARCUS McCulloch, Harold McCausland, Loren Buckey, Harry Sweitzer, Ted Cook, Harold Braun.

TAU KAPPA ALPHA

PRESIDENT Montgomery, Carl Taylor, Professor Layton, Harry Sweitzer, Joseph McCabe, John White.

In 1911 this national fraternity of honor men in debate and oratory was established at Muskingum. To be eligible for election, one must serve as a speaker in debate for two years, or the equivalent, or as college orator. This year's men proved themselves of superior quality by winning the Ohio Conference Debate Championship. Dean C. R. Layton is Vice-President of the national organization which is headed by Lowell Thomas.

COLLEGE ORATOR

Five months of hard work in the library was culminated when Joseph McCabe travelled to Ohio University to present his version of "America First" to the judges of the state oratorical contest.

This event climaxed McCabe's career at Muskingum which included the presidency of several of the campus' leading organizations, and many other extra-curricular activities.

Though Mr. McCabe did not win the oratory contest, he is to be commended upon the splendid job which he performed.

SIGMA ALPHA IOTA

The Alpha Gamma chapter of Sigma Alpha Iota, national professional music fraternity for women, was established at Muskingum in 1928.

The object of the Sigma Alpha Iota fraternity is to uphold the highest ideals of music, and to promote the development and appreciation of such music in America as will serve, appeal, and inspire. Its membership is restricted to those who have outstanding musical ability, who are vitally interested in music both as performers and promoters, who maintain a high standard of scholarship both in musical and general fields of effort, and who have demonstrated their willingness to contribute their talents in serving their college in individual and organization projects.

PHI MU ALPHA

Eligibility for membership to Phi Mu Alpha, national musical fraternity for men, depends upon distinguished service in musical performances, vocal and instrumental, and an interest in good music.

At Homecoming time, in collaboration with the Glee Club, the club presents the riotous "Minstrel show," a panorama of songs and fun-making. At the mid-year, a recital, in conjunction with Sigma Alpha Iota, is given. In addition to this, the organization sponsors an "Amateur Show" which is open to anyone desiring to compete. Winners of this take part in the Minstrel. Individual performances are given every two weeks to which the public is invited.

ORCHESTRA

In 1912, under the leadership of Professor William Gray, the orchestra, one of the outstanding musical organizations on the campus, was organized. Since that time, the group has grown until it now includes over fifty musicians. Its outstanding performance of the year is the widely known Violin Festival, held in May. Given on two evenings, the concert draws visitors from points far and near. Though given by a group of amateur performers, the numbers have a professional touch that makes the works of such composers as Mozart and Schubert alive and elevating. The repertoire includes only the better classical music.

Long hours of effort and practice are given in preparation for this event, which was first given in 1915. Guest artists are now invited to perform with the orchestra. In addition to this concert, the group functions at many college affairs, particularly in providing music for intermissions at dramatic performances.

BAND

The Muskingum College Band was first organized in 1913. Hard work and growing interest have characterized this organization from the beginning with the result that today Muskingum boasts its largest band, with sixty-seven active members. From the home football games in the fall, through the winter basketball season, and up to the Commencement Concert in the spring the band plays an important role in the life of the college. For many years it has been the custom that the band accompany the football team on one of its trips. This year Migration Day saw two busses roll merrily to the Wooster game, pausing en route to permit the peppy occupants to play and march in Dover and Canton.

On March 19, the annual Spring Concert was given, after which the members and their guests enjoyed a banquet at the Muskingum House. One feature of the program was the awarding of the two-year insignia to nine members and the three-year insignia to ten members. The fine work that this organization is doing is due in large measure to the efforts of its director, Professor Wade B. Fair. Richard Wenger served as student director while Ted Willoughby held the colorful position of Marshall.

WOMEN'S GLEE CLUB

Chosen by competitive try-outs, the members of the Women's Glee Club have as their ultimate goals the Christmas vacation trip and the home concert presented in February. It has as its purpose not entertainment alone, but through its varied and interesting programs it succeeds in deepening the appreciation of the students for the beauty of music.

The featured members of the club are Genevieve Herrick, soprano soloist; Anna Margaret Grove, accompanist and piano soloist, and Betty Scott, reader. Professor Merle E. Maupin is the director.

There are approximately forty-five members in the organization, thirty of whom make the Christmas vacation concert tour.

MEN'S GLEE CLUB

Muskingum's first Men's Glee Club was organized in 1909 and was under the direction of Albert Hosmer. This musical organization has increased steadily in number and interest until today it is a well-trained group of over fifty members lead by the capable baton of Professor Milton Franz Rehg. During the Christmas holiday season a selected group of about thirty members makes a five-day concert tour. This year the club gave concerts in Youngstown and East Palestine, Ohio, and Beaver and Butler, Pennsylvania. A program was also broadcasted over radio station KDKA in Pittsburgh. In each place the renditions of the club were well received by a large audience. Through the season Eugene Doutt served as accompanist while Linza Mason ably filled the positions of student director and soloist.

A CAPELLA CHOIR

Comprised of nearly sixty singers, the A Capella Choir is under the direction of Professor Milton F. Rehg. Members are usually chosen after showing distinctive ability in Glee Club work.

Best known to the student body for its regular participation in the Monthly Chapel services, the organization also presents the "Messiah" just before the Christmas holidays. During the spring vacation, an extensive tour was made which included some time in Chicago. In addition to this, the choir makes several short trips each year to sing before high school, civic, and church groups.

Sacred music makes up the largest part of the repertoire.

FRESHMEN WOMEN'S GLEE CLUB

Last year a new musical organization was founded on Muskingum's campus—the Freshman Women's Glee Club. The purpose of the organization is to train the girls in the fundamental principles of group singing and to prepare them for future work in the Women's Glee Club. Last year the club was composed of forty-six members, under the direction of Miss Florence Reiter. This year there are forty-two members with Miss Winifred Hohf directing.

Special music was presented by the Freshman Women's Club before Christmas at chapel. Later in the spring an opera, Iolanthe, by Gilbert and Sullivan, was presented by the three glee clubs on the campus. The Freshmen Club had the responsibility of staging this musical presentation.

NATIONAL COLLEGIATE PLAYERS

In 1927, Muskingum was granted the privilege of membership in the National Collegiate Players, and at that time certain Muskingum representatives were honored by being initiated as members of this national fraternity. Muskingum was given this honor because of the high quality of the plays presented on her campus each year. The requirement for membership is a well-rounded development in drama, acting, and dramatic production, with outstanding distinction in at least one of these fields. Eligibility is recommended by the local chapter and reviewed by the national headquarters according to a point system. Members of this highly accredited organization enjoy contacts with those interested in dramatics in other colleges and universities.

MUCH ADO ABOUT NOTHING

The scene of this play, one of the most popular ever written by Shakespeare, is in Messina. Characterized by the witticisms of Benedick and Beatrice, the villainous plotting of Don John, and the tender love of Hero and Claudio, the play is fast moving and interesting throughout. A large cast afforded the Senior Play Class an opportunity for several persons to make alive once again the immortal characters of the great playwright.

BRITTLE HEAVEN

The life and love of Emily Dickinson, and its influence on her close friend, Helen Hunt (Jackson), form the nucleus of this fast moving drama of Civil War days.

Edward Hunt, husband of Helen, becomes an admirer of Emily through the letters which Emily has written to Helen. When the two meet, the feeling is mutual and both fall in love. Through the efforts of Helen, Edward is transferred in service, never to return. Both have lost the man they love.

JUNIOR PLAYS

CRADLE SONG

Set in a convent, this play is a story of a young girl who, as a child, was left with the nuns. The first act shows the excitement when the baby is found and adopted. The second act takes place eighteen years later when Teresa is to be married.

Peaceful in setting and quiet in movement, the play portrays the life of the Sisters and the influence which the orphaned child had on them.

PICKWICK

Based on The Pickwick Papers by Dickens, this comedy of situations is built around the experiences of the esquires Pickwick, Winkle, Snodgrass, and Tupman, who take notes on all that they see.

Set in London and vicinity in 1827-28, the play was presented at Muskingum on the centennial anniversary of the writing of the papers.

The Muskingum Players organization was founded in 1925 and since that time has progressed rapidly. The purpose of this group is to give those interested in drama and dramatic production opportunity for group consideration of plays, acting, and allied subjects. The fact that Muskingum manifests a keen appreciation of drama on the campus shows that this organization has made noteworthy progress towards its goal. Active membership in the Muskingum Players is open to those participating in junior and senior plays. Meetings are held monthly and occasionally coincide with visits of actors and readers to the campus. This year the Players sponsored theatre parties to hear the Blanche Yurka Dramatic Recital and to see the Romeo and Juliet movie production. They also held receptions for Walter Hampden and Juanita Bauer, both of whom visited the campus to give recitals.

FRENCH PLAY

Each spring the students of French drama present a play in French. This event is outstanding in the realm of play production on Muskingum's campus. The play given last year was "Le Boureois Gentilhomme," a delightful comedy-ballet, that is, a play in which the acting, singing, and dancing are united.

The story of the play centers around M. Jourdain, a commoner who has inherited great wealth and a strong aversion to the livelihood by which his father accumulated that wealth. He becomes filled with a desire to rise in the social scale and surrounds himself with teachers of music, philosophy, dancing, and fencing to help him in his climb into polite society. He fancies that he is in love with a woman of fashion, Dorimene, and even lends money to a needy courtier, Dorante, who is introducing him into social life. Opposing the vain M. Jourdain in his foolish actions are Madame Jourdain and the servant, Nicole, who counsel moderation and contentment in one's surroundings. The scenes become very comical as the idealistic M. Jourdain strives to attain his ends by the clumsiest and most ill-chosen means. The success of this presentation was due in no small way to the ability of Miss Mary E. Sharp, the director of the play.

ALPHA SIGMA MU

The pre-ministerial students of Muskingum organized in 1935 with the following objectives: To promote social, intellectual, and spiritual growth among the students who are planning to enter the ministry, and to encourage the highest Christian ideals and practices on the campus. Members include those persons considering the ministry as a life work and others having a closely related purpose.

Begun under the sponsorship of Dr. J. L. McCreight, the organization has a membership of approximately thirty men, most of whom are now active in gospel work.

In the fall, twelve members took an educational trip to Pittsburgh Xenia Seminary for the purpose of seeing what seminary life is like. They visited the class-rooms and living quarters and chatted with instructors and students.

The fraternity was established primarily to bring those interested in the ministry together in a unified group where associations can be made and opinions exchanged.

Y. M. C. A.

"As many as received Him, to them gave He power." —John 1:12. Upon this motto was the work of the school year 1936-37 based. Under the leadership of Wayne Patterson and the able substitution by Robert Cooper, a social and spiritual program was put on which included such activities as gospel team work, handbook publiction, pow-wow, and the presentation of worth-while speakers.

The primary goal of the organization is the promotion of the vital spirit of Christian manhood and service in every man on the campus. Members of the cabinet, other than the regular officers, included: Prof. F. E. Work and Prof. Merle Maupin, faculty advisors; Herbert Stroup, publicity; Linza Mason, music; Hugh Stouppe, conference; Carl Taylor, foreign correspondence; Vernon Noble, Hi-Y; Oliver Theophilus, gospel team; Robert Courtney, handbook; Rush Warren, social; Dick Hall, freshman cabinet; and Ted Cook, cub scouting.

Y. W. C. A.

"If it be of God ye cannot overthrow it."—Acts 5:39. This was the motto chosen by this year's Y. W. which has as one of its aims the building among its members of experiences that would make for creative, abundant Christ-like living.

Activities which this organization sponsors include: the campus-sister movement, the Pink and George Washington teas, Heart-Sister Week, the doll show, the Christmas bazaar; the Friendly Blaze, and the Commencement Sabbath morning service.

LIFE SERVICE

The Life Service group is comprised of a group of students who have dedicated their lives to some form of Christian service with their aim being the fostering of closer fellowship with Christ among the students on the campus.

In March, 1937, the group brought the semi-annual convention of the Ohio Student Volunteer Band to Muskingum's campus.

The Life Service group has also been responsible for bringing well-known speakers to the campus. Its meetings consist of devotional periods, book reviews, and speeches by missionaries from various fields.

GOSPEL TEAMS

The purpose of the Gospel Team is to realize full and creative life through a growing knowledge of God, and to have a part in making this life possible for all people.

This year's work has been carried on under the motto, "I can do all things through Christ which strengtheneth me."—Phil. 4:13. Conducting church services, putting on recreational programs, conducting devotional and recreational hours, visiting and sending cards to shut-ins, and, with the Life-Service group, giving several presentations of the missionary play, "Outposts," are among the activities of the team this year.

Y. P. C. U.

The purpose of the Y. P. C. U. is to promote companionship with Christ through a friendly gathering of college young people. This organization endeavors to carry on the young people's work as it exists in the students' home communities and to bring together a collection of the best programs executed in the different communities so that others can derive benefit from them.

College students who enjoy this type of work have the opportunity to engage in it by attending the college Y. P. C. U.

WESLEY FOUNDATION

Wesley Foundation is an organization of students in State, Independent, and Non-Methodist schools. Its purpose is to promote religious activities, and to keep Methodist students in touch with their denominational program.

There are three phases of Wesley Foundation work—the Sunday School class, the Epworth League and an Acting Drama organization. The president acts as promoter of the work of the Foundation, the first vice-president takes care of the spiritual work, the second vice-president has charge of Missionary activities and is connected with the Life Service group, the third vice-president is in charge of Christian interpretation of social ideals, and the fourth vice-president directs recreations and social life.

ANNA Warne, Martha Ryall, Sarah Stewart, Grace McKee, Ruth Dalrymple, Ralph Wells, Paul Neel, Harold Amspoker, Glenn Houk.

CHRISTIAN ENDEAVOR

"Christian Youth Building a New World for Christ." With such a fundamental ideal, the Christian Endeavor Society of the Prebyterian Church plans its program. The worship programs are designed to present common vital problems, the goal being to aid each member in meeting life's situations with a Christian solution. Throughout the meetings a deeper sense and appreciation of spiritual values is sought.

An attempt has been made to apply in practical situations the principles which have been discussed. Missions and active Christian service are made real to the members because, as a society, they are responsible for the support of a native missionary in Africa.

SIGMA KAPPA CHI

Sigma Kappa Chi is Muskingum's honorary scholastic fraternity. It was organized in 1927 with the purpose of fostering a high standard of scholarship and of giving definite and formal recognition to those who have maintained such a high record. Those eligible must have highest scholastic rank and also show evidence of a well-balanced development and an admirable character and personality. Sigma Kappa Chi of Muskingum holds the same place which Phi Beta Kappa occupies on other campuses, and by its constitution provides that its alumni will be eligible to apply for membership in the national organization. This group assists in the annual Scholarship Day in the spring when formal recognition is given to those who have excelled in academic work.

CWENS

Cwens is a national honorary fraternity for sophomore women with eligibility requirements of scholarship, leadership, character, and personality. The organization aids in the promotion of scholarship and leadership among all freshmen women and the fostering of better comradeship among under-class and upper-class women. Noted for unobtrusive service and queenly dignity, the fraternity develops warm friendliness among its members. At homecoming the grey and scarlet capes can be seen about the campus. The Cwen serenade at Yuletide on a brisk December night, with the wrought iron lantern and the old English carols, is widely known. The slender red tapers of the pledging service and the feudal feast with its court jester, the grail, wreathes, and garlands are impressive.

First and last: Muskingum women.

"M" CLUB

The "M" Club is an athletic organization composed of men who have earned a varsity letter. The purpose of the club is to create, maintain, and extend high standards of athletics and sportsmanship. The aims are to foster better athletic activity, to create a co-operative spirit between the athlete and the athletic council and coaches, and to get more men interested in athletic competition. The activities of the club are to act as host to visiting teams and prospective high school athletes and coaches; sponsor parties for the good of the organization; sponsor a dance each year; provide entertainment at varsity contests; and arrange athletic admission tickets.

The fiscal year is being devoted to the creation of an "M" Club room which will house a recreation center for members, serve as a meeting place for visiting club alumni, and generally as an instrument of entertainment for the activities of the club. There is also a movement on foot to sponsor a trophy to be awarded to the outstanding athlete of the year in the eyes of the club.

The "M" club is privileged to send a representative to meetings of the Faculty Athletic Committee to voice the opinion of the athletic group.

W. A. A.

"The Women's Athletic Association is organized to foster interest and participation in women's sports, to promote a higher degree of efficiency in health and to engender in Muskingum women college consciousness and college spirit." W. A. A. tries to fulfill this purpose by sponsoring an extensive program of after-school sports—hockey, basketball, volleyball, tennis, baseball, and the like. These are available for any girl who wishes to participate, not just for those who are "star athletes." There is something in that lure of the game and the friendly competition that gives one new vitality and wholesomeness as well as recreation and clean fun. May Day programs, tea dances, and the annual W. A. A. Spring Banquet are other activities promoted by this group. Membership and awards are based upon a point system. The main emphasis, however, is upon wholesome recreation and fun for all college women. W. A. A. strives to provide an opportunity for the development of the physical side of "Omne Trium Perfectum."

PI GAMMA MU

The Ohio Gamma chapter of Pi Gamma Mu was organized at Muskingum in 1927. Election of new members is made by the local chapter. A student who meets the requirements may be admitted to membership as a junior or as a senior. Before becoming a member a student must complete at least twenty hours in social science. Juniors must have a grade-point ratio, in this group of studies, of at least 3:00 and seniors must have a ratio of at least 3.10. Students are recommended to the National Society after they have fulfilled a semester of probation in the local chapter.

The aim of the organization is to foster an interest in the field of social science. A definite study course is carried on by the fraternity including the preparation of papers and group discussions on some particular study topic. The subject for this year has been the Cooperative Movement.

SIGMA KAPPA PHI

The Eta Chapter of Sigma Kappa Phi was established at Muskingum in 1930. Sigma Kappa Phi is a national honorary language fraternity. Membership is of three types: active, associate, and faculty. Juniors and seniors who are majoring in French, German, Greek, Latin, or Spanish and who meet the scholastic requirements are eligible for regular membership. The scholastic requirements are a grade point ratio of 3.00 in all work and a B average in the major for juniors, and a 2.3 ratio in all work and not below B in the major for seniors. Associate members are those students who have eighteen hours but not a major in a language and meet all the other requirements. Meetings are devoted to a study of literature of various languages and are held in English. The aims are to make a closer bond between various languages, both ancient and modern.

SIGMA TAU DELTA

Sigma Tau Delta, the national honorary English fraternity is one of the few fraternal organizations the significance of whose title is not kept a secret. The three Greek letters are symbolic of the sincerity, truth, and design which should be incorporated into the literary endeavors of the various members of the organization. In addition to sponsoring original work in the field of writing, it has the added purpose of instilling into the members thereof an appreciation for the writings of others.

The organization stimulates and maintains an active interest in writing through the medium of its monthly meetings where literary work is critically surveyed.

Active membership is conferred only on those who are majoring in English and have shown particular interest in literary work. The associate membership includes those who are not majoring in English but who are interested therein.

Too often in the past, each branch of science endeavored to maintain itself as an entity. The chemist was usually at odds with the physicist. Each was jealous of the other; in fact psychology and home economics were not even worthy of the scientific profession. The numerous scientific advances of this age may be attributed partly to the more harmonious relationship among the various fields. To promote this valuable spirit of fellowship and cooperation among Muskingum scientists, the Academy of Science conducts a program of interest to all the science departments, namely: biology, chemistry, geology, home economics, mathematics, physics, and psychology. Each monthly meeting is sponsored by a different department, giving each member a wider understanding and appreciation of the all-inclusive scientific spirit. Discussions, demonstrations, movies, and outside speakers, usually professional, constitute the varied program.

The personnel of the Academy consists, actively of two parts, general members and Fellows. Membership may be attained by any student who has completed three hours of work in any of the cooperating departments. The rigid Fellowship requirements are comparable to most of the national honoraries on the campus. A Fellow must have completed twelve hours of B in any one science and must, at the time of election, be taking four more hours in that department.

PSYCHOLOGY CLUB

Initial plans for the Psychology Club were made during the second semester of the college year of 1927-28. Representatives of the faculty who participated in this initial planning were Deans R. W. Ogan and Cora I. Orr and Professors J. J. Smith and Helen M. Clarke.

The constitution provides that the purposes of the club shall be "the advancement of psychological knowledge, the interchange of ideas, and the promotion of fellowship and mutual helpfulness among the members." The membership is mainly of students of the department, faculty members of the department and allied departments, and individuals of the community who are interested in psychology. The main committees consist of a program and a social committee.

The Psychology Club is a part of the Muskingum Academy of Science and the club sponsors one of the meetings of the Academy each year.

Throughout its history the club has had program meetings about once a month and has had one social meeting a year for its members. For several years it was common for faculty members to appear on the program. More recently the programs have been presented by student members of the club. For the most part, topics have been presented which supplement rather than reiterate the content of the psychology courses.

COLLEGIUM

The aim of the Collegium, the Latin Club, is to do as the Romans did. The only prerequisite is to know the meaning of "Veni, Vidi, Vici." The club reads the classics and speaks a dead language. A lively party is held once a month which consists of games and contests. A study of Roman foods and customs is made; Yankee Doodle is sung in Latin and delicious refreshments are served. The year's climax is the annual spring banquet, conducted in true Roman style, with reclining figures clad in traditional togas. The sequence of courses is from soup to nuts.

FRENCH CLUB

The purpose of Le Cercle Francais is to bring together the students of French and to aid in the furthering of free and easy conversation.

A planned program gives each member an opportunity to express himself in practical French, for no word is spoken in English.

A social program gives the student an idea of the normal French social life, as all entertainment is in Parisian style.

It is one of the oldest cultural clubs on the campus with a membership limited to twenty persons elected by the membership committee.

SPANISH CLUB

"La reunion del Circulo Espanol tendra eugar a la casa de Senora Neuenschwander." From 8 to 10 p. m. only the soft, musical language of that southern European country is heard.

Heated political controversies on the eve of the Presidential election with two ardent democrats and six determined republicans, interested discussion of the English king's abdication, the Spanish Civil War, coming basketball games "y todos en espanol," Spanish games, Spanish songs, and the gay strains of "LaCucaracha" make up the major part of the meetings, but ah! here are the refreshments.

Thus we have the Spanish Club.

GERMAN CLUB

Much the same can be said for the German Club which meets monthly in the home of the sponsor, Mrs. Anna Neuenschwander. The purpose of the club is to further an interest in German customs and country. Songs, games, plays, and discussions on native customs make up a large part of the meetings.

A year of college German or its equivalent is necessary for membership enrollment. Correspondence is carried on with students in Germany, by the various members.
